Reported Bigfoot Sightings in New England Counties

There are thousands of reported Bigfoot sightings throughout the world every year.

The State of Maine has several nicknames for Bigfoot including Ridge Monster, Injun Devil, and the Meddybemps Howler.

New Hampshire and Vermont have dubbed Bigfoot the Wood Devil.

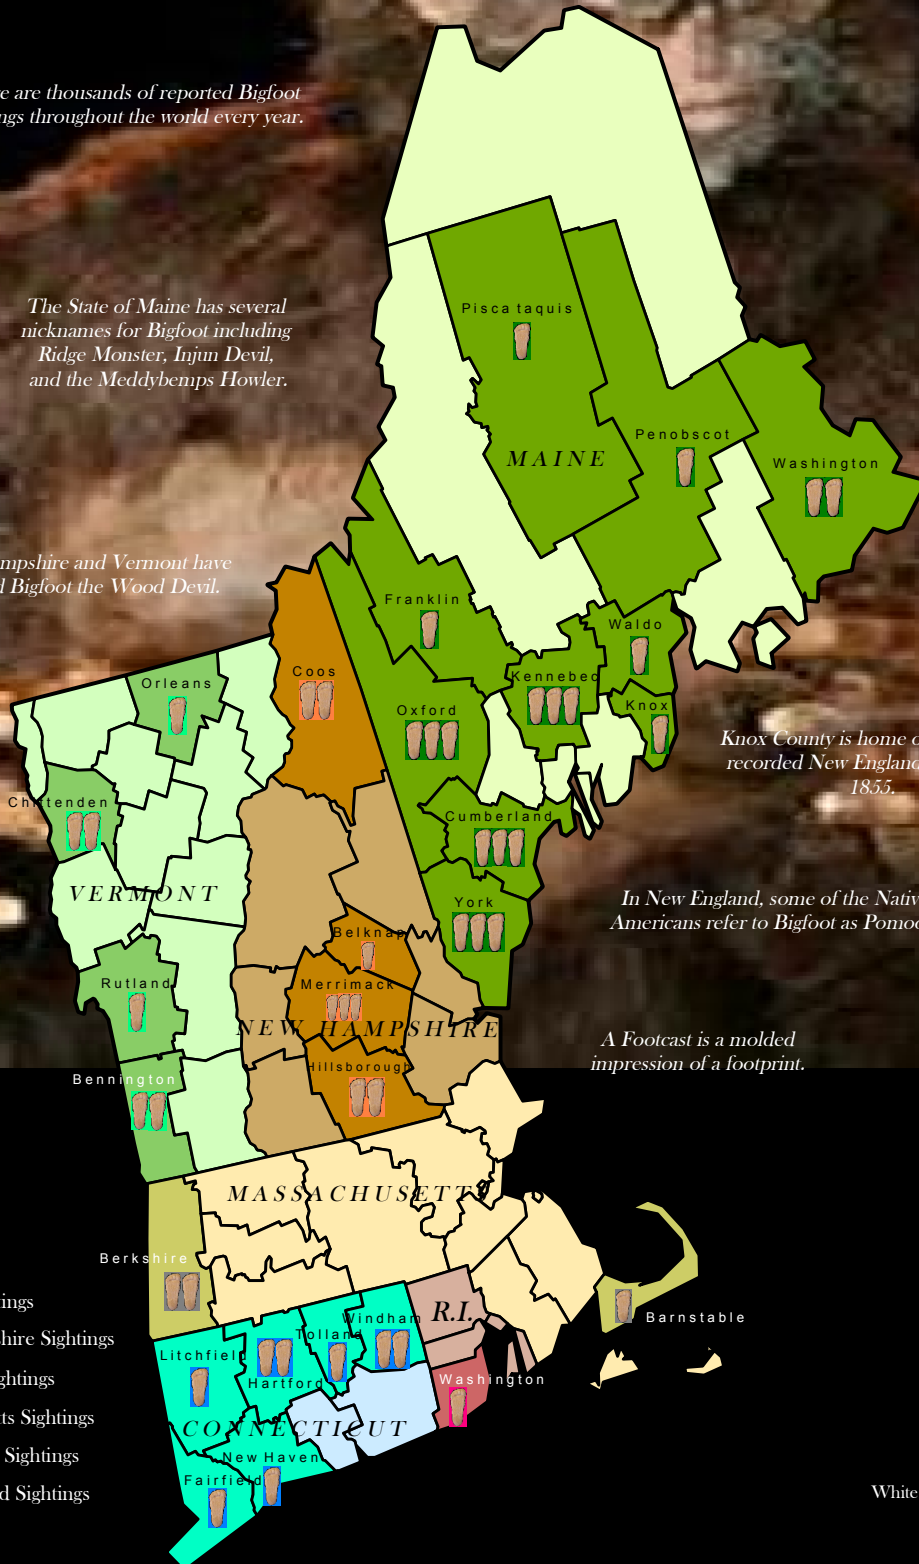

Knox County is home of the earliest recorded New England sighting in 1855.

In New England, some of the Native Americans refer to Bigfoot as Pomoola.

A Footcast is a molded impression of a footprint.
