Phlebotomy Certificate: Program Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the program, graduates will be prepared to:

1. Perform the correct procedures to collect biological specimens.
2. Prepare the biological specimens for transport and testing.
3. Follow universal precautions in specimen collection, processing, and disposal of equipment and specimens.
4. Demonstrate professionalism in interacting with patients, family members, co-workers, other health care professionals.